

Express Entertainment, Inc.

Company Profile

Founded in 1984, and headquartered in Renton, Washington, Express Entertainment provides development, marketing, liaison services, and funding for new entertainment products developed by Express and others. It is a leader in applying new and emerging technologies to entertainment products, and has patented numerous technological innovations. The Renton, Washington-based company is headed by noted Northwest entertainment entrepreneur Ken Kinnear, whose 35 years of event creation and management expertise position Express as an emerging leader in entertainment product development.

As managing member of Showdown Partners, LLC , the company's newest venture is Showdown USA, a touring arena show targeting the 100+ million U.S. motor sports fan base. The current project, which has been developed under wraps for three years, required invention of revolutionary new technology and creation of a new competitive motor sports event. In addition to the live touring show, the product will be delivered to multiple market segments via channels including radio, television, mobile, and the virtual world.